*A place to live,
react and respond . . .*

A place to start: Baltimore

A city remains a city . . .

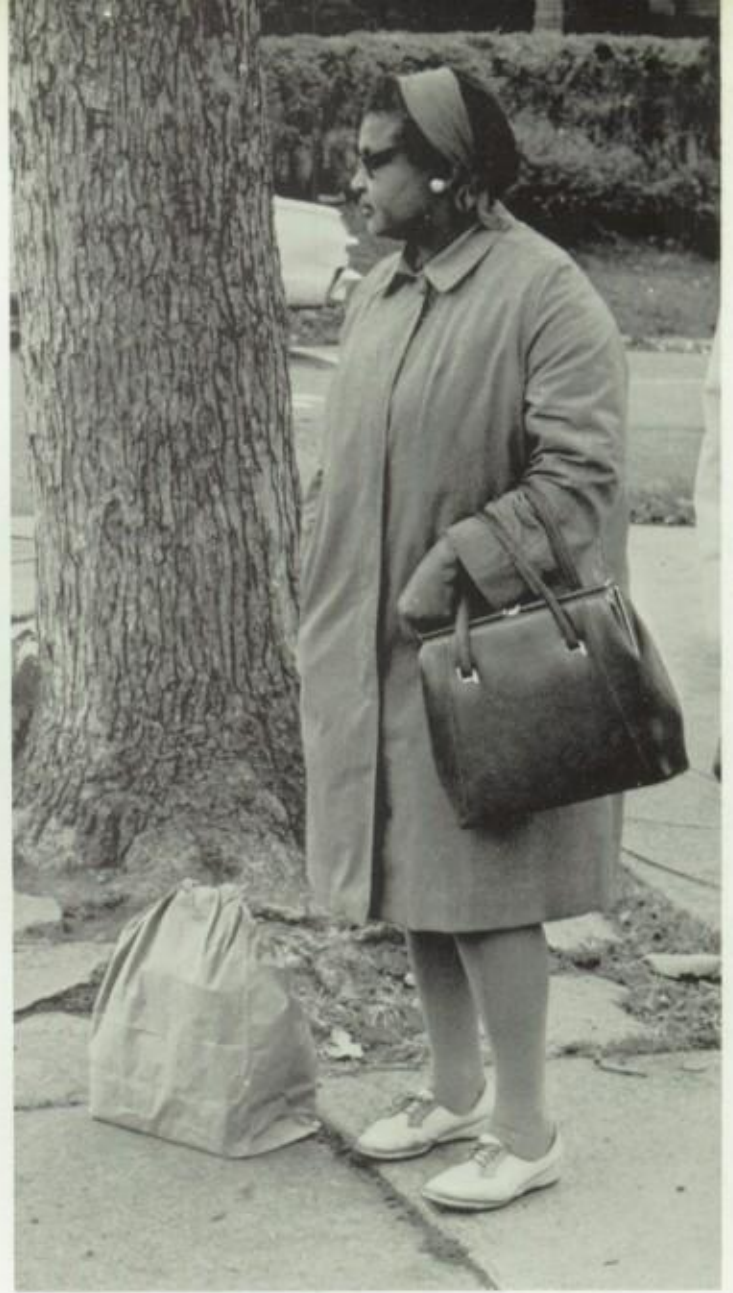

People make it an experience.

People get together and talk.

Sometimes people are alone and think.

Western provides a forum for girls to exchange opinions and then time to evaluate these new ideas. From their conclusions, students can determine their position in society in relation to themselves and those around them. The school offers freedom to experiment and an opportunity to think. For some girls, Western is the conclusion of formal education, for others it is a turning point in the academic world. But, for all students, Western is a step toward understanding their involvements.

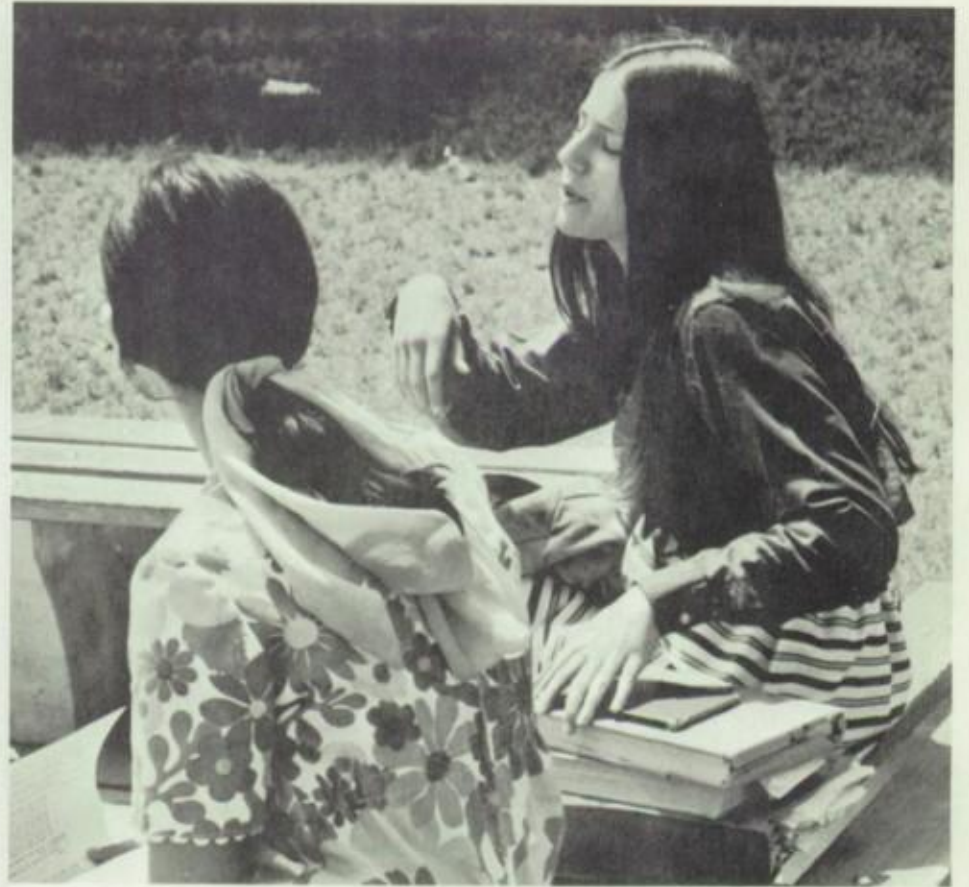

WESTERN HIGH SCHOOL

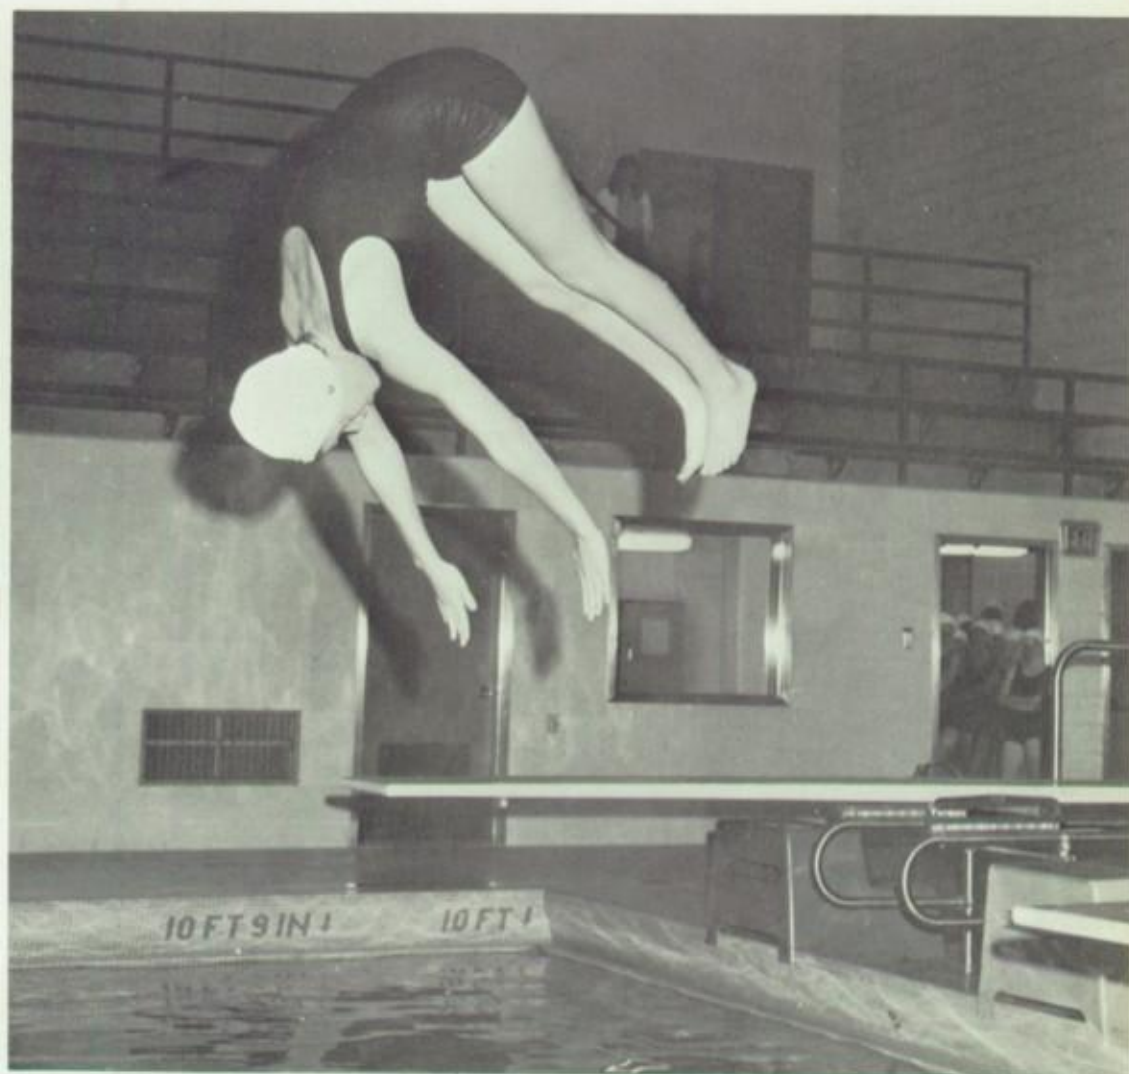

Performances aren't always on stage.

Frustrations lost Release found

In movement.

Music is sound appreciated.

*A form
of soil and pigment
reveals a structure*

And an idea.

*Feel free
Enjoy
Why not live.*

*Remember
a person is nearby*

and one is further away.

Turn around and care.

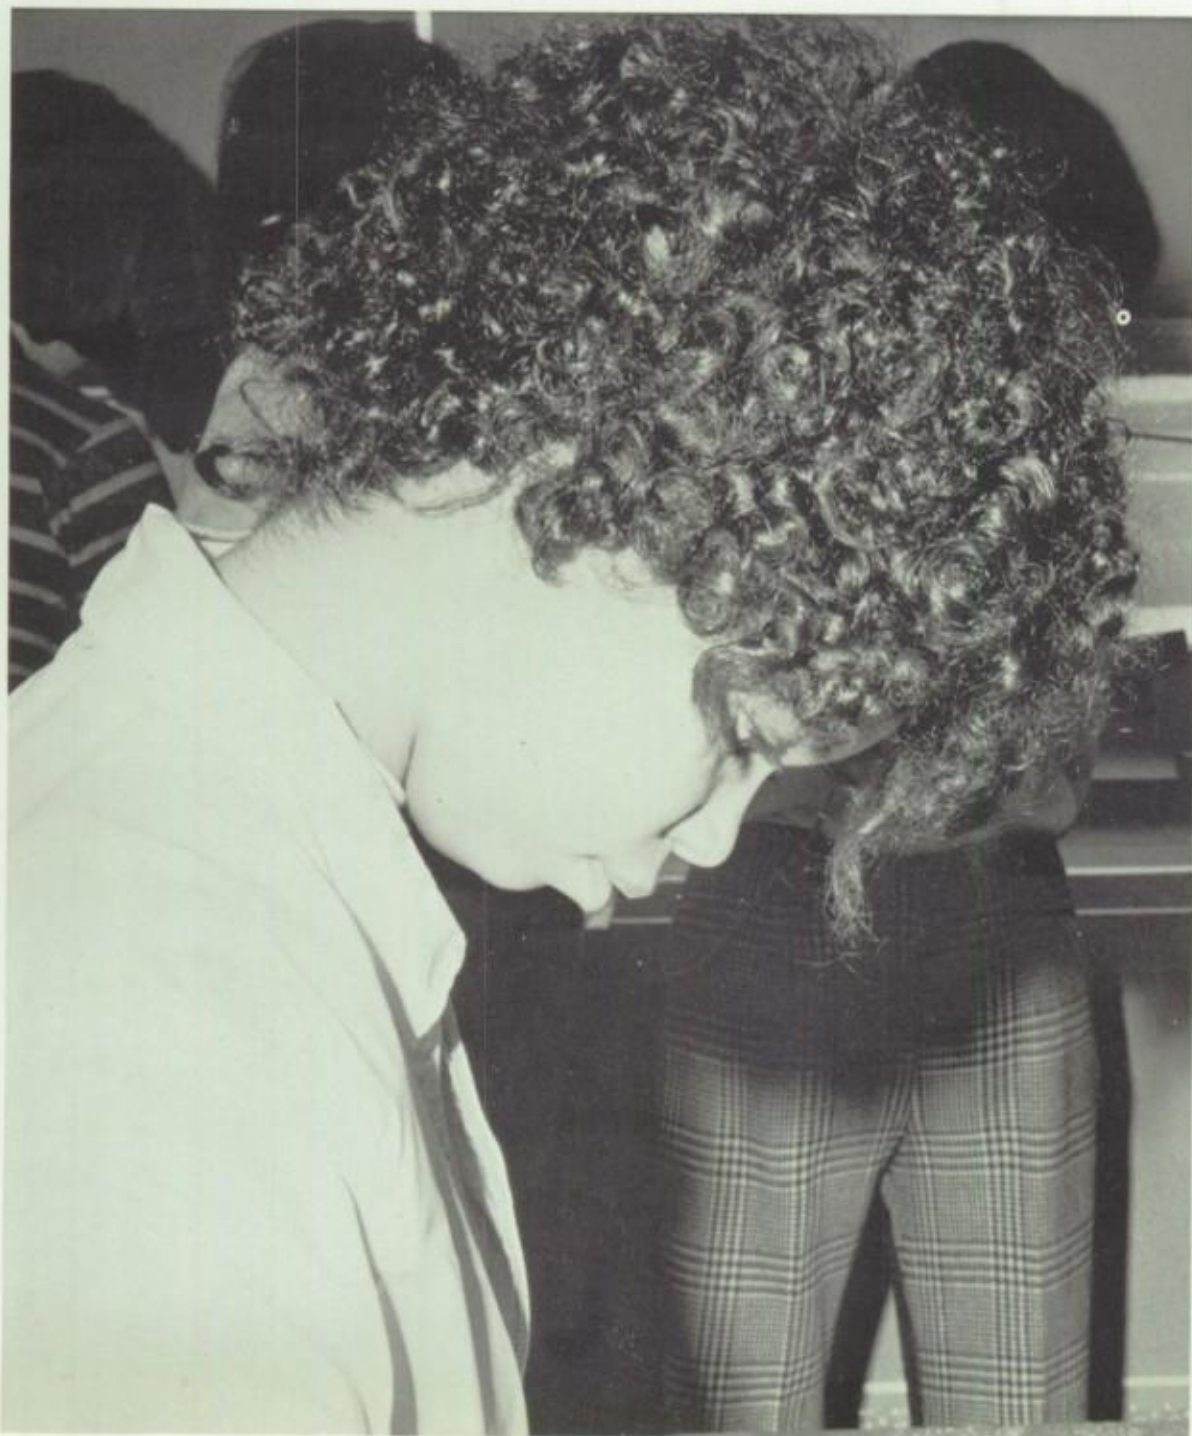

*A job introduces
the practical world,
strange responsibilities,
foreign values.*

*Faces unposed,
no affected manner, no forced emotion,
show the self.*

class history

Comedies Unite the Class of '70

The Rec Room with its boiler sound effects, was the backdrop for the Freshman Day play "This Was the Year That Was." The play spoofed the hectic lives of freshmen at the Howard Street Western.

Barbara Fosler portrays the fictitious "Miss Fuse."

left: D. Gray, M. Daniels, G. Meyerhoff

Sea-weary sailors complain of their monotonous voyage with Christopher Columbus.

In their slapstick "Women In History," sophomores championed the female role. Over 100 girls participated in this effort to raise class spirit.

Capable gun moll (C. Matlack) gives pre-robbery pep talk to boyfriend Clod (J. Weaver).

Docile Oriental woman (J. Laubheim) slinks across stage in a startling change of personality.

Sophomores Swing into Western Scene

After hours of relay races and hot dogs at the sophomore class picnic, girls sprawl on the Quadrangle grass.

Betsy Hess and Angie Marino at Revel.

OFFICERS: M. Morton, J. Laubheim, R. Wilkes, and G. Wieringa carry the tune of the 1970 class song.

Flowers bedeck parading homeroom classes at the 1968 Spring Revel.

Junior Day and Prom Highlight the Year

JUNIOR DAY ASSEMBLY: Dr. Louis Kaplan discusses youth's problems.

Kathy Thompson, Sue McClure, Mary Stumph, Linda Phillips, and Kathy Snyder watch the talent show on Junior Day.

R. Henderson, M. Boss, L. Ruffin, K. Snyder.

Arlene Rosenfeld swings with her date.

Julia Miller, Rosalind Taylor, and escorts.

Winnie Wieman gushes over her prom favor—the class mascot.

Beach Bunnies

J. Laubheim

J. Frank

M. Johnson, D. Kendryna

Bop on Atlantic City Sand

D. Perel, B. Ginsberg

When the junior play, "Annie Get Your Gun," was postponed until the fall, class president Mary Boss maneuvered in school politics for a trip to the Jersey coast in June to raise class morale.

Weary seniors, Helene Framm and Rosanne Singer, snooze during long bus ride back to Baltimore.

Senior Day Hails Class of '70 as School Leaders

Carolyn Showell decorates cookies in class colors, blue and gold.

Zada Mason

Class advisor Mrs. McClarry adds the finishing touch to Helen Coutros's Senior Day white.

Judy Jones, Linda Wilson, Gail Williams, Cathy Jones, and Sandy Douglas greet friends' honking horns before the assembly.

Celebrating the occasion, Sharon Johnson enjoys lunch in the Senior Lounge. The atmosphere is gay with soul, psychedelic tunes, and corsages.

Senator Joseph Tydings delivers an address combining anecdotes with advice.

Student Council Makes Innovations in School Routine

To match flared-leg pants or cover up mini-skirts, Mary Alston dons a maxi coat.

G. Downs

Dad's discards and army surplus specials replace the Jo College look of the Villager era.

Buns and hot chocolate are Martha Malone's breakfast in the cafeteria before school.

The Student Council Assembly for fall 1969 exhibits the current styles in entertainment. Mary Boss leads the singing of a parody on school life.

Zada Mason, Student Council president, initiated many programs outlined during the term of former president, Janice Blackwell. Student opinion became a vital factor in council policy.

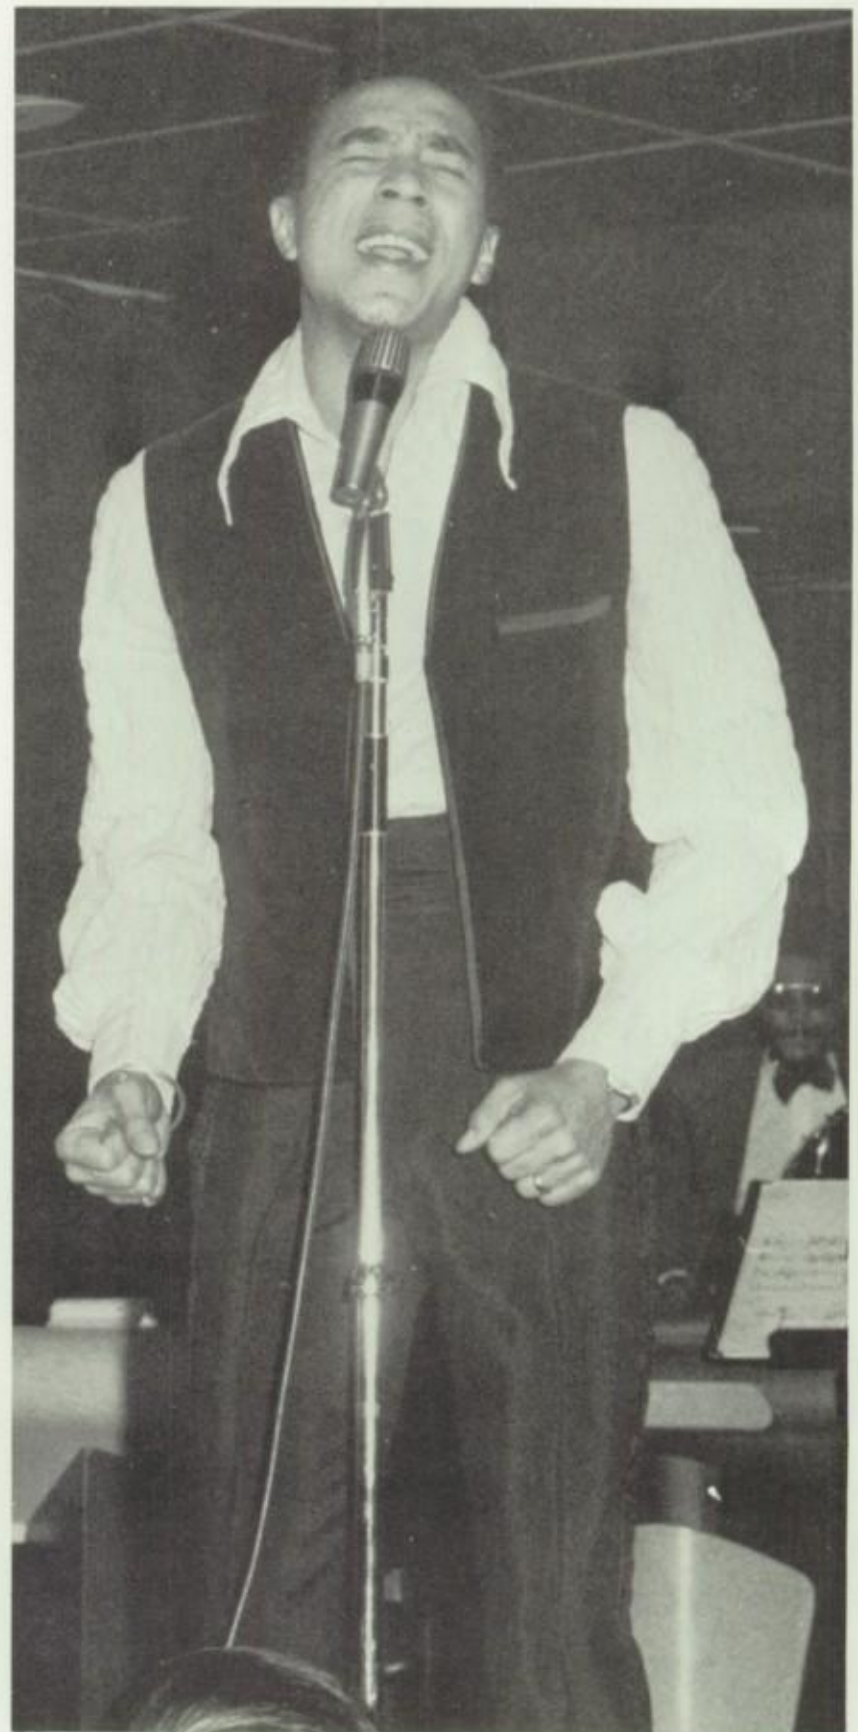

Donna Durham's round glasses and Afro hairdo illustrate the newest fashion trend.

Seniors Enjoy Night-Life

Robin Terry, Deborah Johnson, Sheila Bethea

Smokey emotes.

The Miracles dedicate a song to a crowd of soulful seniors.

"Dancing in a Winter Wonderland."

Judy Morrison fingerpaints glasswax snowflakes in preparation for dance.

Chaumant's singer warbles a tune.

epilogue

I know I'm not doing anything for anyone now. Three years at Western and I never had time to see all the people around me, or to know them. I never helped with the Biafran War Relief collection or the tutorial projects. I was a sometimes member of one once-a-month type club and I always sat in the back of the room. I let the school separate me from the world. The classes separated me from the problems. I was too busy: busy with physics projects, Latin II and U.S. History papers.

But I can do something. If I haven't responded to another person yet, I still know I am capable of it. Maybe not this year, but then at least next year.

Misty Harbor LTD.

"Tammy"—Misty Harbor paints a great fashion picture on canvas. With deft detailing as the subject matter and a junior petite figure as the model. Result—an any weather coat anyone would go to any lengths to own. It's a double breasted walking coat style with popular military collar, set in sleeves, sewn down shoulder epaulets, low-lying angled slash pockets. About face there's a half back belt with buttons and inverted center vent. Carefree "Yachtsman Cloth" of 65% Dacron® polyester, 35% cotton is treated with Scotchgard® and fully lined with silk-like fabric. Completely wash 'n wear. Cornsilk, Brass, Old Salt, Riviera Blue, Apollo Blue.

People,

People who need people—
Are the luckiest people in the world—
We're children—needing other children
And yet, letting our grown up pride—
Hide all the need inside,
Acting more like children, than
Children—

. . . with one person—
One very special person
A feeling deep in your soul—
Says: you were half, now you're whole—
No more hunger and thirst,
but first, be a person who needs—
People.....

—an auspicious life may eventually turn into an ill-fated search for glass friends and dreams, but for a short season of my life, I was whole. Our friendship was palpable, not like my aspirations that were spread over 3,000 miles. Fantasies are fine but not when they replace reality. You are just one, Mrs. Garrity, but more than just one to me—your personality, understanding, and compassion are the elements which letters will never have—Thank you. "Would it embarrass you very much if I were to tell you . . . that I love you?"

Miki
